

Helpful Websites and Online Resources

The internet can be a useful place to find literacy activities, resources, and ideas. Here are a few websites to get you started:

1. Scholastic – <http://www.scholastic.com> – On this website you will find printable resources, online activities, tips for parents, and inexpensive books through your child's classroom.
2. Starfall – <http://www.starfall.com> – This website hosts many different online literacy games for elementary children. There are both free and paid versions.
3. Reading Rockets - <http://www.readingrockets.org/> - This website includes strategies for teaching reading, articles, tips and tricks for parents, downloads, and more.
4. ABC Mouse – <http://www.abcmouse.com/> - This is a paid subscription website with step-by-step online reading lessons and activities for preschool and kindergarten children.
5. Reading Eggs - <http://readingeggs.com/> - This is a paid subscription website with step-by-step online reading lessons and activities for children ages 3-13. Some printable activities are available for each lesson.
6. Mama Lisa's World – <http://www.mamalisa.com/> - This website includes music and nursery rhymes from around the world.
7. Prekinders – <http://www.prekinders.com/> - This website includes learning activity ideas and printable activities for a variety of preschool and elementary subjects.
8. ABCya - <http://www.abcya.com/> - This website features free online games and smart phone apps covering a variety of preschool and elementary subjects.